TO-MORROW We'll Welcome You To Our Great New Building AT 384 Wash. St.

Corner Franklin with the most brilliant assortments of Fall and Winter Clothes ever assembled in Boston.

And the most phenomenal Values in America To-day

We realize the wisdom of this statement, but we make it, however. See if we have not adequate foundation for our claims.

Expecting to be in our new building around Sept. 1st, and at the least, feeling sure that we could remain at our old Summer street until our new Boston Home was completed, we prepared the largest Fall and Winter Stock in our history. But a series of delays forced us to occupy out-of-the-way temporary quarters at a sacrifice of more than half of our usual Fall business.

It is on account of these unavoidable conditions that we shall open our new store tomorrow with the greatest stocks ever gathered in one store in Boston; and to overcome the business handicap
caused by these conditions we have priced these wonderful

TRAIN ROBBERS SEIZE $50,000

BRIDGEVILLE, Pa., Nov. 1.—Two major train robbers, the Western Express train on the Rock Island Railroad at Bridgeville, Pa., 40 miles northwest of Philadelphia, today seized $50,000 from the train, and escaped with the money.

The men then entered the mail car and seized the mail. They then went to the engine and seized the engine. They then went to the car and seized the car. They then went to the car and seized the car.

Expect Prince's Suicide. With the suicide of Prince Ching, the Chinese emperor, hourly expectations were raised for an announcement to his subjects of his reasons for his errors of statesmanship; with likelihood of the entire imperial army and the Chinese people, and the Manchu dynasty, following the realization of the Emperor as an imminent possibility of his death, the provinces menaced by general slaughter, the provinces of the Emperor as a final frantic effort to save the empire, and the provinces of the Emperor as a final frantic effort to save the empire, and the provinces of the Emperor as a final frantic effort to save the empire.

Move to Restore Peace.

The first definite step toward a truce with the Chinese rebels was taken today in the Hailow River by Yuan Shih-kai, the dictator of the Nationalist Government. Yuan informed the government that he opened negotiations to treat peacefully with the Chinese Communist chief of revolutionary forces.

Yuan's report said he was gladly risk his life to visit the insurgent headquarters in W1 Chang in order to bring about a compact for peace.

Orders to stop all imperial military operations against the rebels were issued by Yuan immediately upon his arrival in Hankow, and the imperial forces were warned to turn down all looters and murderers of civilians.
